

The National Trust of Australia (NSW)

National Trust Venue Hire | Dundullimal Obley Rd, Dubbo

DESCRIPTION

Dundullimal is a refined 1840s homestead with spacious grounds. Brides can get married in the grounds and a reception can be held in the homestead's Shed Café and Function Centre. Step back in time for that special occasion at Dundullimal Homestead and The Shed Function Centre. Dubbo's oldest and most historic venue is now available for private hire.

The restored homestead and gardens provide a truly unique setting for your wedding or celebration.

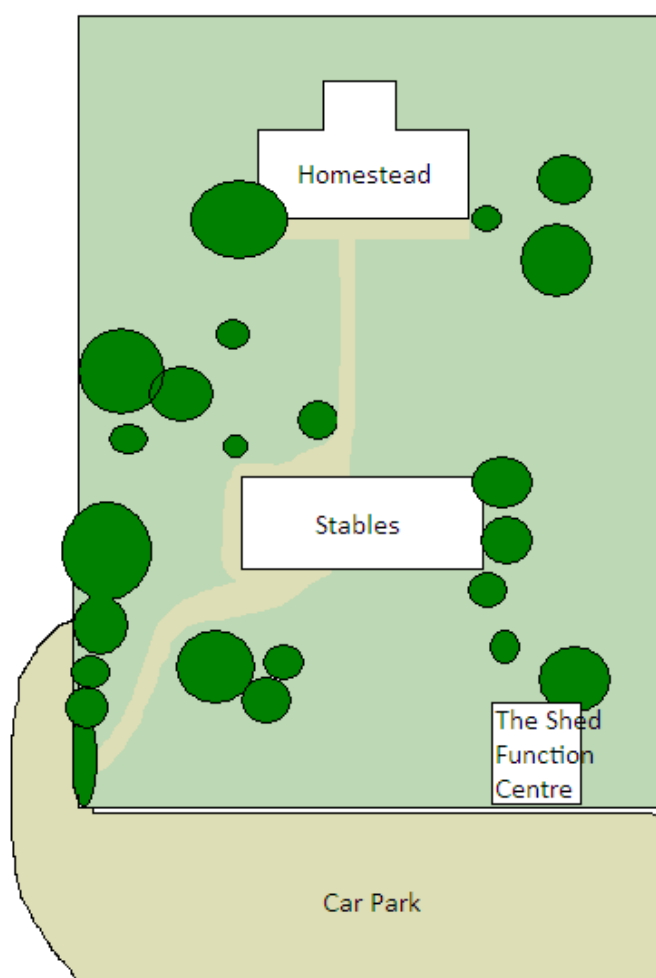

The former machinery shed has been converted to create a function space that is in unison with its rural surrounds, yet intimate and sophisticated. The Shed Function Centre will give your event that truly Australian bush setting with a fantastic view and surrounding gardens. Kitchen amenities are available.

CATERING

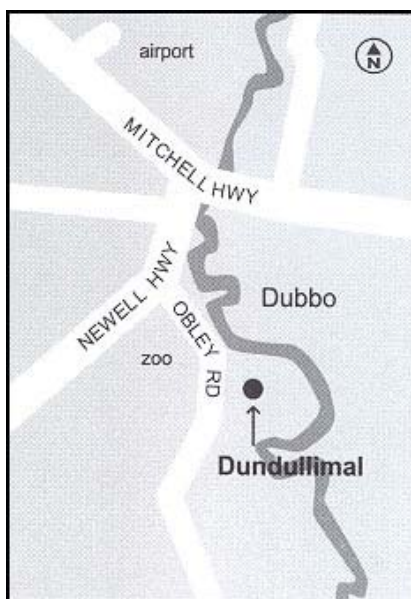

The hirer has the option of self catering or contracting a catering firm for the function. The hirer is responsible for all arrangements and notification to the caterer of this agreement. The hirer/caterer has access to the kitchen, fridge, microwave, bench tops and sink. The dishwasher may be used and instructions must be followed.

DECORATION & MARQUEES

No additions or alterations may be made to the homestead or stables. Removable decorations that do not use glue may be put up in the SFC. The Property Manager retains the right to request the removal of any object that may damage the fabric of the building.

Marquees can be erected on the northern lawn of the SFC only. The Trust provides access to the venue for marquee set-up from 9.00 on the day before the event. All marquees are to be dismantled on the day immediately following the function or as agreed with the Property Manager.
