National Trust Venue Hire | Miss Traill's House and Garden Bathurst

DESCRIPTION

This charming colonial cottage was built in 1845 by the Rev Thomas Sharp and was bequeathed to the National Trust of Australia (NSW) by Miss Ida Traill in 1976. With its beautiful gardens and extensive collection of furniture, ceramics, horseracing memorabilia and art, it's Bathurst's hidden treasure.

Miss Ida Traill was a descendant of early settlers in the region. Her great grandfathers, were pioneers and were amongst 10 men selected by Governor Macquarie to explore and settle the area which became Bathurst, one of Australia's first inland cities. Miss Traill's house, horse paddock, 19th century cottage gardens and memorabilia collection provide an accurate window into the past.

The garden is delightful throughout the year and makes an ideal venue for a garden wedding ceremony and/or reception. Other functions such as photography, Christmas parties, staff parties, childrens' parties, luncheons and morning or afternoons teas are well accommodated in the grounds.
